Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 20 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy for many but brighter in the west, light winds.

Today:
Rather cloudy in Central Belt and around eastern districts, perhaps with a few light drizzly showers cropping up. However mostly dry with bright or sunny spells widespread in the west.

Tonight:
Clear at first for much of the west but cloud tending to thicken with some drizzly outbreaks likely in the north. Very light winds and some frost in the west.

Tuesday:
A dull day in the north with some light rain at times, cloudy elsewhere but a few brighter spells breaking through, especially in the west around Lochaber. Feeling chilly.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy with some rain or perhaps snow spreading into southern Scotland on Wednesday turning wet for most on Thursday. Becoming colder on Friday, some wintry showers in the North.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.